

Both genetics and experiences play a role in a child's brain development. The social and emotional development and critical thinking skills of a child are aided by "serve and return" relationships, where adults promote positive interaction.

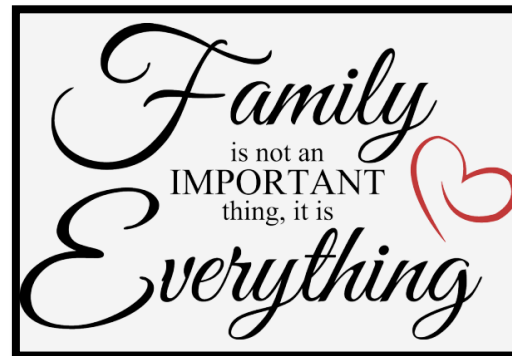

Family support programs:

- Provide opportunities for families to enhance skills to raise children who are physically, socially, and emotionally healthy and ready to learn.
- Promote safe, stable and nurturing environments allowing children and families to reach their full potential.
- Help families achieve their goals, reduce stress and provide referrals to other services such as child care assistance or social-emotional supports.

The Family Resource Center partners with YouthLink to provide TEAM meetings for families who choose to participate in the CCR Program.

Colorado
Community
Response

A FREE service
for families!

Made possible by the Colorado Department of Human Services

What is CCR?

- ♥ Colorado Community Response is a voluntary program that provides prevention services to families who have been referred to the child welfare system, but ultimately are not required to engage in services.
- ♥ CCR will help your family with goal setting, connect you to resources in your community, provide one-time financial assistance and financial coaching, and help you build family relationships.

Goal-based Strategies

Why should I participate?

There are a variety of ways that CCR can help your family. Your Family Advocate will work with you to develop a customized plan based on your family goals.

Examples of Community Resources:

- Parenting Resources
- Community Support Activities
- Substance Abuse Counseling
- Mental Health Services
- Educational Programming
- Family Finances Coaching
- Nutrition/Healthy Eating
- Family Support

The CCR program is a FREE service - brought to you by The Family Resource Center

How can I benefit from CCR?

- ♥ Families are referred to CCR by local service providers
- ♥ A local CCR program provider will contact you with more information if you are referred for participation.
- ♥ If CCR was offered to you in the past, you can request to participate by referring yourself back into the program at any time
